MILITARY BALL
Promises to be a Brilliant Affair—Reception to Governor Weeks and Staff at Town Hall.

Preparations for the annual military ball, under the auspices of Company L, First Infantry, when Gov. Frank B. Weeks and staff, together with a large number of the officers of the First Regiment will be in attendance. The event promises to eclipse anything of its kind held in this city in years.

Governor Weeks and members of his staff will arrive in this city Friday on the 6 o'clock express from Hartford and will be met at the station by a committee and escorted to the Hotel.

FUNERAL

Notes Mary A. Fuller.

The funeral of Miss Mary A. Fuller was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Congregational church, chapel in Hampton. Rev. H. G. Marshall, pastor of the church, officiated. The brayers were Dwight Fuller, Arthur Roberts, A. E. Guild and Myron Fuller. Burial was in the Hammond cemetery at Hampton. Funeral Directors Elmore & Shepard of this city were in charge of the arrangements.

Crossed Wires Cause Trouble.

Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock the fire alarm sounded an stroke and a little later it sounded again. Chief Webster made a tour of inspection and is of the opinion that the alarm was caused by wires near a modern Thread company's plant becoming crossed in some way, as work is being done in that vicinity on electric light and telephone wires.

OBITUARY.

Edwin P. Eldredge.

Edwin P. Eldredge of Mansfield Pond Corners died Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock at the private hospital in this city as the result of a complication of heart and kidney diseases. He had been a sufferer from heart trouble for a number of years and had been at the hospital about three weeks. Mr. Eldredge was 58 years old and a resident of Mansfield, where he conducted a farm. There survive a widow, Mrs. Josephine Eldredge, and a brother, T. H. Eldredge of Norwich.

WEDDING.

Dennehy-Rawley.

Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, Michael Dennehy and Miss Bridget Rawley were united in marriage by Rev. John J. Flemming, pastor of the church. Florence Shea was best man and Miss Hannah Dennehy was bridesmaid. Immediately after the ceremony a breakfast was served and a reception held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dennehy, 293 Jackson street. The bride received many handsome and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennehy left on the noon express for Boston to spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their home in this city. Mr. Dennehy is a foreman of one of the work main forces of laborers for New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad.

Milton Strong of East Hampton and Miss Mabel Allen of Colchester were united in marriage Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. Ralph G. Hartley, pastor of the First Baptist church. The bride was Miss Mabel Allen, 181 Lewiston avenue.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER

Woman's Relief Corps Dispenses Hospitality to Many Guests.

Between seventy-five and one hundred comrades of the Grand Army, their wives, members of the Woman's Relief Corps, and their husbands, and a few other guests partook of an excellent supper in the dining hall of the Grand Army hall Wednesday evening.

The affair was styled an anniversary of the Grand Army of the Republic, but in reality it was the 25th anniversary of the institution of Francis S. Long post, No. 30, G. A. R. At the conclusion of the dinner, the company adjourned to the main lecture room, and Mrs. Sarah L. Connelley, president of the Grand Army, No. 28, in behalf of the corps presented $5 in gold to Francis S. Long post in recognition of the speech abounding with kindness and good will. The appreciated gift was accepted by the president of the corps, Shaffer for the post in a few well chosen words that fully expressed the feelings of the comrades toward their loyal co-workers, the members of the relief corps. An entertainment was then given that included a fine piano solo, a medley of patriotic songs and a play by Mrs. Dixon Van Zandt, a piano duet by Marion Goss and Edith Bowen and a recitation or two by a number of others. A general social hour was then enjoyed and the comrades played whist.

Local Notes.

The city payroll for the week ending March 27th was as follows: Police department $127.58; street, $174.22; sewer, $28.35; labor, $55.65.

The Central Labor union has made arrangements for a public moving picture entertainment in Loomer opera house, Tuesday evening, April 5. Many pictures shown will depict various union labels and will be exhibited in conjunction with a lecture by a representative of the Boot and Shoe Workers' National union headquarters at Brockton, Mass.

Miss Katherine Gullivan and Miss Minnie Goodie of Norwich arrived in town Wednesday afternoon to be the guests of the Misses Hickey of Jackson street.

DANIELSON

Superintendent for Cotton Co. Engaged—Auction—Serious Forest Fires—Bastien Fined, Dagenias Freed in Liquor Cases.

Harry W. Clarke has been appointed as census enumerator for the borough of Danielson.

Other appointments announced to take census statistics in Killingly are James W. Tucker and Job F. Seaman, both of Killingly.

New Superintendent for Danielson Cotton Company.

Michael A. Sheehan, for some time overseer of the mill in the Samuelson mills at Valley Falls, R. I., has tendered his resignation, to take effect on March 31. He has been engaged as superintendent of the Danielson Cotton company. He has had many years of experience in the cotton manufacturing business and is well qualified for the place to which he has been appointed.

Miss Zephira Colvin, who has been spending the Easter recess at her home in Danielson, has returned to the normal school in Willimantic.

Death of Mrs. Fannie Ames.

Mrs. Fannie Ames, 78, mother of J. C. Ames of Danielson, is dead at her home in Canterbury. It is said that James C. Harrows of Providence was the guest of friends in Danielson Wednesday.

Lost Diamond Rings in Fire.
Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Cleaver of Sterling, who had their home in Danielson, Wednesday, it is said that Mrs. Cleaver lost her diamond rings in the fire.

Mrs. John Besette of the West Side has been spending several days with relatives in Providence.

Miss A. Goullas, who fainted in the postoffice Monday afternoon and had to be taken to her home, was better Wednesday.

Frederick Sibley, son of Sheriff and Mrs. P. B. Sibley, is recovering from a recent severe illness at his home in Providence.

Coming from Golden State.
Henry Clark, who has been spending the winter in the Golden State resort, is expected to return to Danielson in about two weeks.

At the conclusion of the fire report, the company adjourned to the main lecture room, and Mrs. Sarah L. Connelley, president of the Grand Army, No. 28, in behalf of the corps presented $5 in gold to Francis S. Long post in recognition of the speech abounding with kindness and good will. The appreciated gift was accepted by the president of the corps, Shaffer for the post in a few well chosen words that fully expressed the feelings of the comrades toward their loyal co-workers, the members of the relief corps. An entertainment was then given that included a fine piano solo, a medley of patriotic songs and a play by Mrs. Dixon Van Zandt, a piano duet by Marion Goss and Edith Bowen and a recitation or two by a number of others. A general social hour was then enjoyed and the comrades played whist.

Trout Fishermen Ready.
It will not be long after sunrise tomorrow (Friday) morning when the trout brooks in this section feel the first legal lash of the anglers' lines for the season of 1910. The warm weather of this week has stirred the longings of the fishermen to get out and try the brooks and many of them have their rods ready and plans made for the first day of fishing.

Farmers' Institute.
The farmers' institute to be held at Woodstock tomorrow (Friday) under the auspices of the state board of agriculture and the Woodstock agricultural society will attract a number of grangers from Danielson and vicinity. The programme arranged is sure to prove enterprising and profitable.

Deacon William Martin, who died recently in Chaplin, has been a member of the Congregational church since 1867, and one of its most loyal and liberal supporters. He had been a deacon for forty-one years.

Auction at Milligan Place.

J. H. Milligan, who recently sold his real estate at Brooklyn, offered various other of his properties for sale at auction in the village on Wednesday, Riley B. Witter of Brooklyn acting as auctioneer. Horses, wagons, a gasoline engine, and many other things were included in the sale. Mr. Milligan has conducted a wagon building business in Brooklyn for several years, but is now to locate elsewhere.

W. R. C. Entertainment and Sale.
The members of McGregor Woman's Relief Corps gave a free entertainment and social in G. A. R. hall on Wednesday evening, many members and friends of the organization attending. In connection with the entertainment there was a sale of candy, cake and aprons.

Bad Forest Fires.
Forest fires raged all through this part of the county on Wednesday and while they did not cause in the aggregate a serious amount of damage they were in constant danger of so doing. Lack of rainfall during the past few weeks, taken with the unusually warm weather, has created a condition that makes the control of one of these fires a difficult matter, as the dead leaves and cut brush are as dry as old bones. Persons who have brush to burn are being urged not to do until after a heavy rain.

TWO ILLEGAL SALES.
But Herma Bastien Was Fined on Only One Count—Dagenias Not Guilty.

Herma Bastien, keeper of a restaurant in the Winkelman block on lower Main street, pleaded guilty to making two illegal sales of liquor without going before the court Wednesday morning and was fined $10 and costs, the latter amounting to slightly more than $25. While Bastien pleaded guilty to two counts he was fined only on one count. On the second count sentence was suspended upon his agreement to close up his place of business and cease selling liquor illegally. The count to which he pleaded guilty is still heard over him and costs, and he may be again fined at any time if he fails to keep his agreement to quit the business.

The other liquor case that developed Monday, that against Ed Dagenias, and which was the outcome of statements made by Arthur Gay and William Hamilton, prisoners, to Prosecutor Attorney Arthur G. Bill, went to trial before Judge Harry E. Back. Attorney Bill presented for the state, while Attorney George W. Melony of Willimantic represented Mr. Dagenias.

Gay and Hamilton were brought over from Brooklyn jail, where they were sent Monday to serve the sentences imposed upon them, to testify as witnesses for the state.

On the witness stand, Gay said that he had purchased a half-pint of whiskey from Dagenias at the latter's place of business in the Evans block last Saturday night and that he paid $5 for it. He also testified that he had seen a bottle of whiskey of the same man at the same place on three different occasions recently on March 19, 23 and 24. He testified to a searching inquiry by Mr. Melony, Gay and Hamilton stuck to their statements.

Mr. Dagenias denied that he had sold either of the men liquor or any drink of an intoxicating nature on the dates alleged. In a nutshell, it was a case of the word of the prisoner, who did not claim to have seen each other, against the word of the defendant.

In his argument, Attorney Melony laid particular stress on this feature of the testimony, claiming that the state had failed to prove its case, inasmuch as a preponderance of evidence had not been submitted against his client.

Judge Back found not guilty, but in passing judgment made reference to Dagenias' previous appearances in the court on similar charges and incidentally referred to the latter's agreement about leaving the basement in the Evans block as a condition of his release.

Judge Back also pointed out that in a community of this size it was rather unusual for the court not to hear remarks about matters that are liable later to come before him for decision. He also pointed out that whatever his personal opinion the findings must be based on the evidence as submitted.

PUTNAM

Moses Lambert Pays $175 for Illegal Liquor Selling—Heavy Losses by Woodland Fires—Verdict for Defendant in Wilcox-Thrail Suit.

Mayor Archibald Macdonald is confined to his home by illness.

Thomas McGarry of St. Thomas' seminary, Hartford, has been spending several days at his home in Putnam.

Elmas M. Wheelock has gone to Florida for a short vacation trip.

Mrs. Simon Farley and daughter, Miss Louise, are visiting in Worcester.

The free-will offering meeting of the W. O. T. U. is to be held at the home of Mrs. Mary A. Gardiner tomorrow (Friday) afternoon.
